Over the past decade, Community Building Art Works has helped more than 60,000 veterans and service members tell their particular stories. This October we are partnering with the DC Chapter of Blue Star Families, the nation's largest grassroots military family support organization, to provide this opportunity for military teens, and we need your support.

The average military family moves three times more often than their civilian counterpart. There are currently 1.2 million military children of active duty members worldwide, and nearly 80% of military children attend public schools throughout the United States—entering communities with little, if any, understanding of their particular challenges.

Through Our Eyes: Finding Home Again

2022
Sponsorship
Guide

Through Our Eyes: Finding Home Again

A joint CBAW and BSF project, Through Our Eyes: Finding Home Again will guide 10 to 15 high school students during their transition to the Washington D.C. area as they tell their stories through photographs and captions using a process called 'photo voice.' This project will allow us to support and learn from the stories of military teens, a population experiencing unique challenges related to transition, displacement, and loss of community during a parent's military service—at a time when many young people are experiencing increased anxiety, loss of connection, and mental health challenges.

A culminating reception will be held on October 2, 2022 at the Torpedo Factory in Alexandria, Virginia honoring the participants and their families, and inviting other military children and teenagers in the region to attend and share their own perspectives.

With your support, Through Our Eyes: Finding Home Again will:

- Highlight the challenges and successes of military teens to the civilian community.
- Allow military teens the opportunity to narrate their own experiences.
- Facilitate engagement opportunities for teens to help increase their sense of belonging with the local community and each other.
- Showcase these stories to policy makers, school boards, and community partners so they better understand the experience of the military child.
